The Boating (Safety Equipment) Regulation NSW requires vessels on open water (i.e. out from the coast) to have an appropriate map or chart on board.
This map is deemed to be an appropriate map for recreational vessels undertaking voyages less than 3 nautical miles off the coast and within a radius of 15 nautical miles from the point of departure from the coast. Vessels undertaking longer voyages than that stated above MUST carry an appropriate chart (i.e. an Admiralty or Australian Hydrographic Service chart) showing the area proposed for the voyage or excursion.
It is the vessel masters responsibility to ensure that they are in possession of the latest edition of this boating map or chart.
